Mediation can benefit you in several ways:

- Mediation can be a no-cost or low-cost way for you and the other parent to discuss and resolve your problems about visitation and/or custody without going to Family Court.
- Mediation professionals do not take sides. They guide the conversation to find the best solution for parents and children.
- You will have a chance to express your concerns in a private and confidential environment.
- You may find new ways to think about your situation.
- You will have a say in any decision that is made about your family.
- Most importantly, children perform better in school and have fewer behavior problems when they have both parents in their lives to support them both financially and emotionally.

LYFE CENTERS

The Living for the Young Family through Education (LYFE) program supports pregnant and parenting students enrolled in a NYC Department of Education school by providing childcare and referral services. Each LYFE site has a childcare center for students' young children and is linked to a social services and health referral network developed by the on-site LYFE Social Worker. Click Here for the LYFE program directory. Click Here for the LYFE program website

- Children can enroll in LYFE soon as they are fully immunized (at the earliest, 8 weeks old) and can remain in the LYFE until the end of the school year in which they turn three years old.
- Any NYCDOE student can access referral services and/or enroll their child in childcare at any center, space permitting. You do not need to attend the high school where the center is located to access the services.
- In most cases, LYFE childcare is free.
- Staff at the LYFE centers or at the Referral Center for High School Alternatives are available to assist with enrollment in the LYFE childcare centers as needed. Students must be enrolled in school to be eligible for services

HRA Infoline at (718) 557-1399

<http://www.nyc.gov/html/hra/html/services/snap.shtml>

How do I apply for SNAP benefits?

Step 1. Get an application.

To find out if you qualify and apply online, go to NYC.gov/ACCESSNYC. You can also download an application; pick one up at your local SNAP Center; call to have one sent to you by mail; or have someone pick one up for you at a local SNAP Center.

Step 2. Fill out the application.

Anyone may fill out an application. Answer as many questions as you can. If you need help filling out an application, please ask for help at your local SNAP Center.

Step 3. Submit your application.

Submit the completed application to your local SNAP Center. The completed application and the required documentation can be submitted in person, by mail or by fax to your local SNAP Center.

If you go to the local SNAP Center to pick up an application, you have the right to submit your application the same day, and you will be screened to see if you may be eligible for Expedited Processing.

Step 4. Set up an interview.

At your interview, you will need to show us a variety of documentation to prove your identity and circumstances.

What should I bring to the interview?

- Proof of identity (driver's license, ID card)
- Proof of address, unless you are homeless (apartment or house lease, electric, gas, water or phone bill, rent book or receipt, or mortgage statement)
- Social Security numbers of everyone you are applying for. If you do not have a number, you will have to apply for one.
- Proof of the amount of all earned and unearned income before taxes or deductions (pay stubs for the past month or two, employer wage statement, benefits letter from
- Social Security unemployment compensation, Veterans Administration or pensions).
- Household composition
- Proof of shelter costs. If you want us to count your actual utility expenses, you will have to verify them.
- Proof of immigration status for non-citizens who are applying for SNAP Benefits (you do not have to provide any immigration information on people who are not applying for SNAP Benefits).
- Proof of child support payments you make if you want us to consider the amount you pay (support order, separation agreement, child support records).
- Proof of out-of-pocket medical expenses if you are age 60 or older or receive federal disability benefits (doctor or hospital bills; prescription receipts, receipts for over-the-counter medical expenses if prescribed by a medical practitioner; transportation costs to get to medical care)
- Proof of child care expenses if you are working or looking for work or in training.
